Ross Ford students prepare to be on TV

photos by Gene Hartmann

Five Ross Ford students worked with Global TV on their video about the history of Ross Ford School, that will run on Global sometime over the September long weekend. Left: Braeden Turnbull was also allowed to join the group because he is very interested in video taping, and so he spent the day buddied up with the camera man.

by Tamara Collins

Five, Grade 4, Ross Ford students have become budding actors and actresses in the past few months, with the creation of their play, "If the Walls Could Talk", a video about the history of Ross Ford School.

Zoe Morrison, Naomi Switzer, Emily Thompson, Chelsea Budd and Mathew Johnson, all students of Mrs. Gole, are thrilled that the play they created was chosen as one of the ones that will run on Global TV during the September long weekend. During the long weekend Global is running a Centennial Special and will feature different short segments from schools around Alberta.

It all began when some students were struggling to come up with an idea for their novel study, and Mrs. Gole found something in the newspaper that said "Tell about your school", where students had the opportunity to tell about their school in a video, picture or song.

"We decided to do a video, a play," said Switzer. "Last week Global came here to film it, and it was so much fun."

Morrison, Switzer, and Budd spent the next few weeks writing the play about their school's history. The play had to be re-written several times before it was ready.

"Us five are in the video," said Thompson. "We practised over and over again. Even when we were getting taped, we had to do it a few times."

Global arrived at Ross Ford School on June 8 to tape the play.

"It is so exciting, it will be everyone's first time on TV," said Budd. "It was a lot of work, but worth it."

The video is just under six minutes long, and when it will run on the long weekend is not known to the students.

"It could be on anytime, they could not give us a time," said Johnson.

This also became a special day for Braeden Turnbull who usually spends time in class pretending to be a camera man, so Mrs. Gole allowed Turnbull to join the other students with Global.

"He got to buddy up with the camera man," said Switzer. "He thought it was the best thing in the world. It was a fun day, school is pretty cool."

DEAB talks to Council about new pathway

by Tamara Collins

Wide and connected to Didsbury's hot spots, is what the Didsbury Environmental Advisory Board (DEAB) suggested to the Didsbury Town Council at the June 14 Council meeting, regarding new pathways in town.

At the last Council meeting, Council passed a motion to move ahead on the Centennial Pathway, which is to be part of Memorial Park. Steven Dodyk of DEAB, gave a presentation to Council, letting them know that DEAB would like some input on the project, and future pathway projects.

"I know that the pathway is moving along and I would like to ask Council for DEAB to have an opportunity to put some input into the planning of it," said Dodyk.

"First we need to decide what we want this pathway to do for Didsbury. Do we want to improve the aesthetics of the town, or increase physical activity, or do we want people to have a peaceful stroll? If so, I think a circle route would be best."

Dodyk also mentioned connecting all the current pathways in town to one circular path that goes around town.

"We should take advantage of the current informal paths around town," said Dodyk. "In my opinion Main St. should be the backbone of the pathway. The path should connect major points of the population. I think the Town should start with in-town paths, then move onto a path around town connecting the rest."

As for the size of the path, Dodyk suggests an eight foot pathway, that will give people enough room to pass, or walk comfortably beside someone else.

"Working together we can hopefully improve the environment for all Didsburians," said Dodyk.

"We would just like a role in planning, to put the voice of the people first."

Lastly Dodyk suggested the Town becoming a member of the Alberta Trail Net Society, which would send them information that could help avoid possible problems in the future.

"The information from DEAB about having downtown connections and keeping the trail wide are good ideas," said mayor Dorothy Moore. "Four feet isn't that wide to walk beside someone else. It was great information and Council will consider it."

TOWN OF DIDSBURY

Council Highlights - June 14, 2005

Parking Study: In the fall of 2004, Council requested that Administration undertake a Parking Survey to:

- Determine whether there is a lack of parking in the downtown core, and
- If there is a lack of parking due to staff parking on the street for the entire day, and
- To suggest possible solutions to the lack of parking spaces.

Alison Williams, who formerly was head of planning for the Mountain View County has found a file on a previous parking study done by the Red Deer Regional Planning Commission. The Red Deer Planning Commission was requested by the Didsbury Town Council to examine parking in the commercial centre, following representations by the Chamber of Commerce. Chamber members had expressed concern over the heavy use of existing stalls, on street parking by business-owners and staff and the loss of the Town Office car park.

In light of this new information, Administration made a decision to incorporate some of the historical data into the Parking Survey report that Administration believes will give Council a more complete picture of long term trends.

Ross Ford Playground Request:

The playground equipment at the Ross Ford and Westglen School is to be removed this spring, as it no longer complies with safety regulations. A group of parents are trying to raise funds to replace the playground equipment through bake sales, book sales and other fund raising activities. They met with C.A.O. Brian Irvine who offered advice as to how they might capture a CFEP grant that would match funds on a dollar for dollar basis.

On March 8th, 2005, Council was requested to provide a letter of support to the project and this letter was sent to the school.

In our 2005 budget, $10,000 was allocated for replacement of playground equipment. The dollars that Council decides to dedicate to the project, may capture an equal amount from a CFEP grant, thereby providing more money for the playground equipment.

On April 19th, 2005, Mayor Moore, Councillor Wittal, Councillor Davidson, Councillor Dodyk and Interim C.A.O. Roy Brown met with the Principal and Vice Principal of the School to discuss the project and to discuss questions regarding joint use and the general condition of all school property.

Mayor Moore and Deputy Mayor Neufeld met with the Chair of Chinook's Edge, Roy Brassard, and the Corporate Secretary, Theresa Dersch, on June 2nd, 2005.

Only $10,000 was budgeted for playground equipment for the entire town. As such, if the entire $10,000 is allocated to this project, there will be no additional monies for other playground equipment during this fiscal year.

Council has postponed this issue for discussion at the June 21, 2005 Committee of the Whole Meeting.

Red Deer River Users Group:

At the May 31, 2005 Regular Council Meeting, Council received information from Ray Romanetz, Treasurer of the Red Deer River Municipal Users Group asking municipalities who use the Red Deer River water resources to indicate whether they would support a $0.50 per capita requisition. Based on Didsbury's population of 3932 this would equate to $1,966.

At the May 31, 2005 Regular Council Meeting, Council moved to support the $0.50 per capita requisition for $1966.00 to the Red Deer Municipal Users Group to be used in hiring a consultant provided the Mountain View Regional Water Commission subsidizes the Town of Didsbury for the full amount.

Delegation: The Didsbury Environmental Advisory Board (DEAB) requested an opportunity to present a delegation to Council to discuss the Centennial Pathway. They wanted to make a proposal outlining characteristics of the trail. DEAB also felt like they had a great deal to offer in the planning of the trail and would like to be a part of the planning process.

Smoking Bylaw 93-17: Bylaw 93-17 was last amended on August 21st, 2002. Since this amendment the Town of Didsbury has purchased the Train Station and has sold the Westerdale Building.

Concerns of confusion about whether smoking was allowed or not smoking at the Fireman's Cabaret renewed discussion with regards to the Town of Didsbury's Smoking Bylaw.

Council discussed at the June 7th, 2005 Committee of the Whole meeting updating the Smoking bylaw as to the list of town owned buildings and whether Council should begin another public process to inquire whether there is sufficient support for all Town owned buildings including the MPR to become smoke free.

Council directed Administration to update the current Bylaw to reflect current town buildings, and further, if an event held in the Multi Purpose Room is a function open to the public the sponsors of the event must advertise the function as either smoking or non-smoking and signs must be posted at the event indicating same.

Town Office Renovations and Additions:

At the June 7th, 2005 Committee of the Whole meeting, Council agreed to add one clerical person to the Town office staff to support the work of Brenda Hemming, the Director of Corporate Services. Council will be asked to officially agree to this position at this Council meeting.

This new position will create a shortage of workspace in the Town office. It is proposed that a wall be supplied and installed in the present waiting area of the Town office and that the Executive Assistant to the Chief Administrative Officer be moved into the newly created office. The new staff person would take the present Executive Assistant's desk. Part of her duties will be coverage of the front counter during lunch hour and answering the telephone.

Council's approval to have a wall supplied and installed, to move one fluorescent light and have a second one installed, to provide the necessary electrical outlets including telephone and computer data lines and to supply and install baseboards and a door is requested.

Didsbury & District Historical Society:

The Didsbury and District Historical Society are preparing for their summer activities and would like to receive an advance on the annual grant of $4000.00 from the Grants to Individuals & Organizations - Administration portion of the budget.

Council approved to provide the Didsbury and District Historical Society an advance of $2000 and the remaining $2000 after July 1, 2005.

Town of Didsbury Pin Request:

Council approved to donate 350 Town of Didsbury Pins to the Didsbury Hospital Ladies Auxiliary to take with them to the spring Convention in Saskatchewan in 2006.

Cemetery Plot: The family of a resident of the Town purchased a double plot in the Didsbury Cemetery for the couple upon the death of the Father in December of 1981.

Since that time the Mother has decided that she does not wish to be buried in the cemetery and the daughter is requesting a refund of the price of the plot.

Under the terms of Bylaw 99-05, Section 3: "That no plot shall be sold other than to the Town of Didsbury, at 85% of the market value of the plot, at the date of resale. A copy of the original receipt must be submitted as "Proof of Purchase".

Neither daughter nor the family have the original "Proof of Purchase" and the records of the Town do not go back to 1981, so there is no way that the Town can trace the payment.

Wittal stated that Council must follow the Bylaw and that being said, Council could not provide the refund based on the current bylaw unless Council amends the Bylaw. If the Town gives a refund without a proof of purchase the Town is contravening the Bylaw.

Council directed Administration to bring an amendment of the Bylaw to Council covering cemetery plots to allow for the constituted proof of purchase based on ownership of the lots and that it be maintained at the existing 85% of present market value and that once this change has been approved that the amended Bylaw be brought back to Council and that Administration is to contact the family.

Date for Assessment Review Board Hearing:

The 2005 Tax Notices were mailed on June 5, 2005. A date needed to be set for the Assessment Review Board hearing.

Section 462 of the Municipal Government Act (MGA) outlines the requirement that a complainant must be given at least 14 days notice of the date of the hearing. Administration recommended the date be set for July 11, 2005 at 7:00 pm in the evening at the Town of Didsbury Council Chambers. The designated officer (the Director of Corporate Services) will be away on vacation from July 13, 2005 until August 8, 2005. Frank Watson, our assessor suggests that when we receive an appeal, our staff can phone the complainant and advise them of the date. Section 462 (2) says "the notice period required under subsection (1) (b) may be reduced with the consent of all persons who are to be notified under that subsection."

Council approved July 11, 2005 as the date of the Assessment Review Board Hearing and that the hearing be held in the Town of Didsbury Council Chambers at 7:00 pm.

Date for Public Auction:

On March 31, 2005, Tax Notification was placed on nineteen (19) parcels within the Town of Didsbury. These tax accounts were two (2) year arrears.

Section 418 (1) of the Municipal Government Act (MGA) says that "Each municipality must offer for sale at a public auction any parcel of land shown on its tax arrears list if the tax arrears are not paid."

Section 421 (1) of the Municipal Government Act (MGA) says that the municipality must advertise the public auction "in one issue of The Alberta Gazette, not less than 40 days and not more than 90 days before the date on which the public auction is to be held..."

To allow sufficient time for this advertising requirement and the Alberta Gazette deadline, administration is recommending that the date for the Public Auction be set for September 30, 2005. Council approved this date.

Infrastructure Canada - Alberta Program (ICAP):

Additional monies from ICAP might be available if we made immediate application. Mike Phillips has quickly put this application together. Council endorsed this application for 2/3 of the $315,500 that would be needed for the Rosebud Industrial Lift Station and Mains under the Infrastructure Canada-Alberta Program.

Special Areas Project:

Mayor Moore provided information regarding a meeting to discuss the water diversion proposal for eastern Alberta. Mayor Moore would like as many members of Council and the community to attend and asked if anyone could attend the meeting in Carstairs on June 16, 2005 at 7 pm at the Carstairs Community Hall. A questionnaire, which Mayor Moore provided is to be answered. The expectation is to divert water into open ditches in the eastern end of the province. There will be another meeting in Red Deer at the Black Knight Inn on June 22 at 7 to 9:30 pm.

Appointment of Acting Director of Operational Services:

Council approved and ratified the appointment of Darcy Austin as Acting Director of Operational Services.

On May 24, the Didsbury 5-0 Singers went to the Carstairs to sing at Chinook Winds Lodge. They were asked to dress up and to sing songs for Victoria Day. It was a very fun evening, they said.

OPINIONS EDITORIAL

Smoke free Didsbury

TAMARA COLLINS
EDITORIAL

I am glad to hear that Town Council will be bringing the smoking issue back up in the fall, because I think people are finally taking action.

Maybe last year when the Town Hall meeting was held, people were unsure what they thought about the smoking question, and if smoking should be banned in public places. I don't think people are unsure anymore, and a big sign of that is that in fact every restaurant in town (not the pubs) has willingly gone smoke free. They have actually been smoke free for over a month now and I don't see any less people going to these places. That is because that is what the people want, a smoke free environment that they can bring their children to, without being surrounded by clouds of smoke.

Good for all the restaurants who have chosen this healthy alternative, and hopefully soon it will not be just an option.

Congratulations To Our Graduating Class

When I think of graduation, it often reminds me of a ladder. Each one of us has a vision, desiring to reach our goal, in the quickest way possible. However, there are reasons a ladder has rungs. Each rung leads us higher and higher, finally bringing us to the top. Each rung has a purpose and carries with it important lessons to be learned; each rung has value and brings rewards. Each rung strengthens and prepares us for what lies ahead. We cannot short circuit our climb up the ladder without missing precious experiences and valuable and important lessons, each valid and each with a purpose.

As in climbing a mountain, each step brings us closer to the summit and the majestic view we sought, but each step along the way has its own moments of joy, and encourages, strengthens and enables us to go on, and fills us with anticipation for what lies ahead. Likewise the ladder we climb, can be a challenge, but the rewards are endless; if only we would stop and take notice of what each rung represents; enjoying each step along the way, and realizing each step brings us closer to our goal.

Each ladder we climb, each rung we reach will be unique, precious and special for each one. Let us determine to climb each step with renewed hope and courage always looking to the 'One' who promised He would never leave us or forsake us. God bless each of you Grads, know we care about you.

MYRON THOMPSON'S COLUMN

ACCESS TO INFORMATION ACT: NEEDS CONSERVATIVE REFORMS

Myron Thompson, Member of Parliament for Wild Rose says that this week's report by John Reid, the out-going Information Commissioner of Canada, in which he states the government is seized by a culture of distrust and resistant to the law, is just business as usual when it comes to the Liberal party and access to information.

"The Information Commissioner stated clearly that he has not been able to crack the conspiracy of silence, even from the highest levels of government during his seven year term," said Thompson. "This individual worked tirelessly in his pursuit for an independent and open government."

"It's clear that this system must be radically changed and that we need to put in place mechanisms to bring back accountability and integrity to government. This will only be achieved through better access to information particularly, where taxpayers' dollars are spent or public functions are performed," stated Thompson.

The Conservative Party recently released details of how they would improve the Information Act. They are as follows:

- *Expand the coverage of the act to all Crown corporations, all officers of Parliament, all foundations, and to all organizations that spend taxpayers' dollars, or perform public functions.

- *Establish a Cabinet-confidence exclusion, subject to review by the Information Commissioner.

- *Establish a duty on public officials to create the records necessary to document their actions and decisions.

- *Provide a general public interest override for all exemptions, in that the public interest should come before the secrecy of government.

*Make all exemptions discretionary and subject to an injury test.

"The Information Commissioner made it very clear that if the government had improved the Access to Information Act and provided for the ability to gain access to Foundations and Crown Corporations, the recent scandals would never have occurred," said Thompson.

"During the Liberals' mandate, instead of making government information more accessible, they have in fact tried to suppress more of it. Instead of improving the Information Act, they would like to make it more difficult. Only a Conservative government has the political will to truly improve Canadians' access to information," concluded Thompson.

Friends of Medicare upset over Supreme Court ruling

Dear Editor,

The Supreme Court of Canada decision in the Chaoulli case is a wake-up call to Albertans. We need to make sure that our province funds and delivers a public health care system focused on quality health outcomes. Such a health system will not be threatened by the privatization industry.

The Supreme Court struck down a Quebec law banning private insurance for services covered under Medicare. The high court ruled that the law violates Quebec's charter of rights.

Friends of Medicare is disappointed in the Supreme Court because its ruling flies in the face of poll after poll which has shown strong support from citizens for single-tier health care, with service based on need rather than ability to pay.

Albertans strongly cherish the notion that we are all equal within our public health care system. With this ruling, the door is open to health care access depending on one's financial resources.

I have no doubt that there will be other cases coming forward. Pressure to strike down the rules of Medicare will come from health-care corporations that want new market opportunities.

The best defence against the coming privatization offence is to make sure our public health care system in Alberta is solidly funded and delivers quality health outcomes.

Thankfully the province has a template from its recent Symposium on Health. The majority of speakers said that for-profit delivery is no cure for health issues like waiting lists. The message was that quality health outcomes must be the first focus of health reform. Further, the international experts stated that quality health reform should be based on the evidence.

There will be no market in for-profit private health insurance or delivery if Medicare in Alberta has a cost-effective and quality delivered public health care system.

Sincerely yours,
Harvey Voogd, Coordinator
Friends of Medicare

MPR: smoking or non

by Tamara Collins

Important questions were raised to Town Council after complaints came following this year's Fireman's Cabaret and the smoking that was allowed inside the Didsbury's Multi-Purpose Room (MPR) in the Memorial Complex.

Following these complaints, Council discussed the issue at the June 7 Committee of the Whole meeting, and together came up with some points to consider if they were to make the MPR smoke free.

Council considered that it would be difficult to argue against the health related concerns relative to smoking. Town also looked at the fact the MPR is a source of revenue for the Town and some renters want a venue where they might permit smoking.

Presently the ventilation in the MPR is public smoking facility," said councillor Stephanie Dodyk. "I think it is very ironic."

The bylaw, which was last amended on August 21, 2002, was also amended to include the Train Station, which is now owned by the Town, and the Westerdale Building was deleted from the bylaw. "We decided that a function must announce if it is going to be smoking or non," said mayor Dorothy Moore. "Not a private function such as a wedding, but just the public ones. That way a person can decide if they would like to attend or not. Then we are going to readress the issue in the Fall. We held a Town Hall meeting about smoking a year and a half ago and we found everyone was split. Maybe things will be different this time."

Council decided that it would be possible to require renters of the facility who are using the MPR for a public function to advertise the function as either smoking or non, and signs must be posted at the event indicating the same. At last Tuesday's Council meeting, Council passed three readings, amending the Smoking Bylaw 93-17 to include that in it.

Rural Physicians The cornerstone of rural health care

Rural physicians are the heart of your community and the cornerstone of rural health care. They provide office care, home care, hospital care, community care and emergency medical care. Rural physicians are employers, local consumers, volunteers, community supporters - and your neighbors.

When a rural physician needs time off for vacation, or continuing education, the AMA's Rural Locum Program may provide a replacement physician. Your physician can then take time off with the comfort of knowing you are being cared for while he or she is away. Last year, the Rural Locum Program provided 5,169 days of locum relief in 55 communities.

Thank you for returning your empty pesticide containers for recycling!
BUT PLEASE:

BRING THEM BACK clean

*Pesticide containers up to 23 L

Containers that aren't thoroughly rinsed and drained contaminate
all the rest
- resulting in significantly higher recycling costs

stewardshipfirst making responsibility to protect people and the environment

Do more than just bring them back: Bring them back clean!

Agricultural producers have been returning pesticide containers for recycling for more than 15 years, through a very successful program administered by CropLife Canada.

Canada leads the world in this recycling initiative, with over 70% of all containers being returned - more than 60 million so far - but there is room for improvement. Not all containers returned are completely clean. Those that aren't rinsed and drained contaminate all the rest, resulting in a 'Hazardous Recyclable Waste' designation and significantly higher recycling costs.

Growers are urged to follow the 3 Rs of the pesticide container recycling program:

- 1) pressure rinse or triple-rinse containers (up to 23 L) thoroughly to eliminate all pesticide residue;
- 2) remove paper booklets, sleeves and caps;
- 3) return the clean, empty containers to your regional collection site.

Please do your part to create a healthier, safer rural environment and Bring Them Back Clean.

Exciting Canada Day festivities planned for Didsbury

The Town of Didsbury is inviting all residents of Didsbury and area to the biggest birthday party of the year! Our Canada Day festivities are scheduled for next Friday evening, July 1, 2005 and we have tons of exciting events taking place.

This year's celebrations are a little different, with all the events taking place in the evening. The idea is to bring your families down to Memorial Park (located east of Krebs Veterinary Clinic on Highway 582) anytime after 6 pm on Canada Day and enjoy dinner and fun activities until nightfall, when the fantastic fireworks display will take place. This way, families can enjoy all the Canada Day festivities at one time and spend a fun-filled evening with family, friends and neighbors.

Several local community groups will be supplying the menu for the evening and raising funds for their organizations at the same time. The Chinook Winds Christian Centre will be providing a tasty selection of sandwich wraps and home-baked goodies. The Didsbury and District Historical Society will be heating things up on their barbecue, offering residents burgers and hotdogs. The 1st Didsbury Scouts will have their cotton candy machine up and running, providing a sweet treat for children of all ages! Bean Brokers from Olds will be providing a wide selection of specialty coffees, hot chocolates and teas for patrons to choose from. And, of course, save room for the traditional birthday cake, provided by the Town of Didsbury.

After a delicious meal, participants will have plenty of activities to choose from. Don Dyck will be providing free horse-drawn wagon rides for all in attendance. We will have a Farmer's Market in the park and tables are still available for only $5 each. Please call Katie at 335-7354 to book a table. The Chinook Winds Christian Centre will be running a free Kids Carnival with lots of games, face painting and other activities for children to take part in and win some great prizes! The Town of Didsbury is supplying an inflatable jump house for the kids, as well. Come out and bounce around with your friends!

Around 9 pm local musicians, dancers and singers will be providing entertainment on our Talent Stage. A great lineup of area performers will keep residents entertained until the fireworks light up the night sky around 11 pm. The Didsbury and District Volunteer Fire Department has a spectacular fireworks show for our community this year. You don't want to miss it.

For more information on any of the Canada Day events please call the Town of Didsbury at 335-3391. We look forward to seeing you July 1st!

Helix to help the blind

photos by Tamara Collins

Helix is in training to be a seeing dog, that will one day assist the blind.

by Tamara Collins

Training dogs to work with the blind, is what this Didsbury woman has spent the last two years doing. Coreen Froese is presently working with a Basenji named Helix who is five months old, and very eager. Froese trains the dogs through Pacific Assistance Dogs Society (PADS). Last year she was working with a puppy named Chase.

"Chase is doing very well," said Froese. "They have been very impressed with him, he has been catching on to alerting very well."

Chase is presently in the midst of his training back at the facility after his time with Froese. After three more months, if PADS feel he is ready, he will be matched with someone. The pair then together goes through a two week training period, that helps teach them to work together.

Coreen Froese and Helix

After they are matched, and have gone through the training, Chase will be tested yearly to make sure he is still doing his job properly.

Helix started out a little ahead of Chase, because he has already done some training at the Vancouver facility where he has started to learn alerting for sound.

"Since he has had such an early exposure with it and took to it so easily, I have continued to work on that with him," said Froese. "We are also working with sign language."

Helix will be with Froese till the end of January, when he will head back to the facility for more training.

"It was very hard to let Chase go, I would leave for work, and not come home till bed time," said Froese. "It will be hard to let Helix go too."

Helix is actually the first Basenji, which means African sight hound, to train with PADS.

"He is doing very well," said Froese. "People are very supportive when they see him. They remember Chase and are excited to see another dog with me."

Living in the fast lane

Ryan Eaton

Life for this ten year old has become quite fast paced since last year when he got his first junior dragster. Since then Ryan Eaton spends every weekend on the road, and that is just fine with him.

"I used to race soap box derby cars, and I won lots of trophies and plaques," said Eaton. "Then my dad asked me if I wanted to try drag racing, I said sure."

Eaton got his first dragster from Cosby Motorsports West, along with a suit, gloves and a helmet. The dragster had a motor but was not painted when Eaton got it.

Once the dragster was ready to go, it was the middle of last season and so Eaton jumped right in.

"I have done about 18 races now," said Eaton. "I love going that fast. It was a little scary at first, but I got used to it. Sometimes when I shoot back in my seat I still get a little scared."

On June 12, Eaton was competing in Medicine Hat and was automatically sent to the semifinals when he got a bye for having the best reaction time.

"A bye means I automatically get to move to the next round," said Eaton.

In the semifinals Eaton lost due to slow reaction time.

Each race is an eighth of a mile, and dragsters under the age of 12 can not go faster than 8.9 seconds. At 8.9 seconds in the 1/8 mile, the junior dragster would be going approximately 70 miles per hour.

"Once when I was racing in Calgary I got a perfect reaction time, that was the best I ever did," said Eaton.

On June 24, Eaton will travel to Edmonton to compete in Nationals. At Nationals he will be up against other drag racers from all over North America. This is a three day race, and Eaton is very excited to participate.

As far as his plans for the future, Eaton will continue to drag race till he is 16 years old, then he wants to race around in a circle.

"I really like doing it, I like going fast," said Eaton. "My car was in the Show and Shine this year and that was cool. People really liked it."

Walking to fight breast cancer

These two women are walking their butts off training for "The Walk to End Breast Cancer" which will take them on a two day, 60 km walk to fight against the disease that strikes one in every nine women.

Cindy Tippe and Terry McEwan both have important reasons for participating in the Walk, which will take place in Calgary on Aug. 12 to 14.

"I mainly decided to do this because my best friend Terry was diagnosed and treated for breast cancer in January and treated in February," said Tippe. "I want to support her. I am also doing it because one in every 27 women die from breast cancer."

McEwan, who says she is doing fine now, is doing the walk because she has lost friends and family to breast cancer. To participate in the Walk the women must each raise $2000, and also train for walking 30 km, two days in a row.

To help them raise the money the women will be holding a garage sale on June 25, with all proceeds going to breast cancer research. The location of the sale is undecided now, but watch for the posters. If you have any gently used items you would like to donate to the sale, you can contact Tippe at 335-4123.

If you would like to just make a donation to their cause, you can go to visit endcancer.ca, then click on the Calgary link. Then click on sponsor a participant, and put in either of the women's names. Donation sheets are also available at the Remax office.

"There are lots of people out training, so if you see them on the streets drive accordingly and honk to show your support," said Tippe.

School's out for summer

Heather Caton

On June 29 students will finish their last day of school, and officially start their summer vacation.

The following day, to help students celebrate the beginning of summer, the Didsbury Aquatic Center

(DAC) will hold their annual School's Out Pool Party. On June 30 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. you can join the party for only $5 (passes not valid), and get in on the games, prizes and fun. "All ages are welcome," said Heather Caton, DAC. "It is going to be lots of fun. We are also having a barbecue on the patio, and hot dogs are $2. Everyone who pays admission gets a free hot dog."

The games will include relays and other timed events, all water activities. Parents do not need to attend with their children. "It is the first day after school ends," said Caton. "What better way to start off your summer."

QUESTION: Schools are asked to accomplish many things on behalf of our kids today. What part of the curriculum would you give the greatest priority?

DR. DOBSON: Schools that try to do everything may wind up doing very little. That's why I believe we should give priority to the academic fundamentals -- what used to be called "readin', writin', and 'rithmetic." Of those three, the most important is basic literacy. An appalling number of students graduating from high school can't even read the employment page of the newspaper or comprehend an elementary book. Every one of those young men and women will suffer years of pain and embarrassment because of our failure. That misery starts at a very young age.

A 10th-grade boy was once referred to me because he was dropping out of school. I asked why he was quitting, and he said with great passion: "I've been miserable since first grade. I've felt embarrassed and stupid every year. I've had to stand up and read, but I can't even understand a second-grade book. You people have had your last laugh at me. I'm getting out." I told him I didn't blame him for the way he felt. His suffering was our responsibility.

Teaching children to read should be "job one" for educators. Giving boys and girls that basic skill is the foundation on which other learning is built. Unfortunately, millions of young people are still functionally illiterate after completing 12 years of schooling and receiving high school diplomas. There is no excuse for this failure.

Research shows that every student, with very few exceptions, can be taught to read if the task is approached creatively and individually. Admittedly, some can't learn in group settings because their minds wander and they don't ask questions as readily. They require one-on-one instruction from trained reading specialists. It is expensive for schools to support these remedial teachers, but no expenditure would be more helpful. Special techniques, teaching machines and behavior modification techniques can work in individual cases.

Whatever is required, we must provide it. Furthermore, the sooner this help can be given, the better for the emotional and academic well-being of the child. By the fourth or fifth grades, he or she has already suffered the humiliation of reading failure.

QUESTION: We need a little more income to make it in my family, but I have preschool children and don't want to seek employment outside the home. Is there an alternative for me to pursue?

DR. DOBSON: You might want to consider building a home-based business that can be done while taking care of your children and keeping your sanity. Among the possibilities are catering, desktop publishing, pet grooming, sewing, consulting, transcribing legal documents or even mail-order sales.

Choosing which business is right for you is the first of three practical steps suggested by Donna Partow, author of the book "Homemade Business" ($6, Focus on the Family Publishing). You can start your own enterprise by taking a personal skills and interests inventory to identify your particular abilities and what you might like doing the best. The second step is to do your homework. Begin by asking your librarian to help you research your chosen field. Check out books, magazines and newspaper articles. Talk to other people who have done what you'd like to do. Join an industry organization and a network of like-minded people. Subscribe to industry publications.

According to Mrs. Partow, the third step is to marshal as much support as you can. Get your children, your spouse and your friends on your side. Setting up a small business can be stressful, and you'll need as much encouragement as you can get. If you've been torn between family and finances, having a home-based business may turn out to be the best of both worlds.
